Equipping Singaporean adults with digital literacy skills for the digital economy

The SFDW 2.0 programme aims to equip Singaporean adults with digital literacy skills to prepare them for the digital economy. Employers will be able to tap on the SFDW 2.0 to equip their employees with the right mind-set and skills for the digital economy.

SSG has also worked with the appointed programme partners to develop customised training programmes for six sectors - namely Built Environment, Food Services, Manufacturing, Retail, Tourism and Transportation. Employers in other sectors who wish to contextualise the training programme can also approach SSG's appointed programme partners to do so.

How you can benefit:

At the end of the programme, participants will be able to demonstrate basic working knowledge and competencies with the following learning outcomes:

- Awareness of the jobs and digital skills required in the current and future digital economy
- Able to work in a technology-rich environment and know the associated cybersecurity risks
- Awareness of various digital applications and tools in work applications, including widely applicable national or sectoral platforms
- Awareness of how data and information can be used
- Perform functional outcomes through use of digital tools and software to access various learning paths and content
- Able to follow or develop a post-course action plan to continue learning and further deepen skillsets in the four key areas of automation, cybersecurity risk, data analytics and in-demand digital tools
